

Trexel Exhibits and Conducts Customer Seminars at ChinaPlas 2010

This year's ChinaPlas was held from April 19 to 22 in Shanghai and, as in years past, Trexel participated with a successful exhibit that helped the company to stand out in a prominent way among the 2100 exhibitors from 32 different countries who came to display their wares. Results exceeded expectations as more than 80,000 people attended from around the world, resulting in hundreds of new inquiries about Trexel and the MuCell® process.

Trexel displayed a significant number of proven applications, developed and in production from all parts of the world. A highlight of this year's ChinaPlas experience were the joint seminars conducted in partnership with Engel and Bayer on April 20th and 21st at Bayer's R&D Center in Shanghai. The seminars featured real-time demonstrations of the MuCell® process, and were a major success.

For those who couldn't make it to China look for Trexel later this fall at K 2010 in Dusseldorf, Germany. We can't wait to see you there!